Ninyo & Moore offers a variety of geotechnical engineering and environmental services for landfills, burn sites, closed illegal and abandoned sites, and landfill gas monitoring networks at closed landfills. Ninyo & Moore has experience working closely with State and local enforcement and/or health agencies to develop innovative ways to evaluate landfill gas and assess former landfill sites. These sites have varied, but commonly include, incomplete waste disposal histories, and sites with complicated geology. They commonly require us to develop innovative ways to construct the landfill gas system because of subsurface conditions, the fact that many have been developed, and/or are adjacent to developed areas.

Ninyo & Moore's representative experience includes:
